

- A-level tutorial college in Oxford, UK
- Established by Oxford University academics
- Maximum class size of 3
- Student hall of residence
- Outstanding A-level results

Oxford International College was founded by Dr Mario Peters and a team of experienced educational professionals, including academics from the University of Oxford. We are a small, private tutorial college based in the heart of the historic university city of Oxford.

The College building

We offer A-level and GCSE courses which prepare students for entry to leading British universities. For international students we offer special programmes to help them adapt and succeed at a UK university.

Teaching is based on the tutorial method employed by Oxford and Cambridge Universities, with tuition taking place on a one-to-one basis, or in mini-groups with a maximum of 3 students per class.

We have a newly refurbished student Hall of

Student Hall of Residence

Residence where our students have the opportunity to make friends and gain confidence and independence to prepare them for university life.
