When the pandemic started back in 2020, quickly impacting upon schooling, Oxford Science Studies (OXSS), decided to move their offering online. With schools reopening, OXSS kick started their face-to-face courses once more, although continuing a hybrid approach for some half term courses, with online tuition now proving a popular option.

Meet OIC Academy's (OICA) Year-Round Digital Subject Tuition, a way to fill the gap, now left by OXSS, that being the need for supplementary tuition, throughout the year, when set revision courses are not running or available.
